TEACHERS' INSTITUTE OPENS AT DONORA; BIG ATTENDANCE

Charleroi Schools Send Biggest Delegation to District Affair

GOOD ADDRESSES ARE MADE

Dr. F. W. Hinitz of Washington and Jefferson College and Dr. A. D. Dean of University of New York State Give First Talks.

Approximately 150 teachers were present from Charleroi, Monongahela and Donora at the first session of the Tri-District Teachers' Institute at the Grand theatre in Donora Monday afternoon. Two addresses featured the afternoon, in addition to the address of welcome by E. C. Morrison, president of the Donora school board. Dr. Hinitz, president of Washington and Jefferson college was the first speaker and Dr. A. D. Dean chief of vocational schools division of the University of the State of New York at Albany made the last address of the afternoon.

Rev. W. M. Work, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of Donora conducted the devotional exercises. Prof. I. T. Daniel, supervisor of music in the Charleroi schools, conducted the music.

Mr. Hinitz's theme was "Constants and Variables of the Teachers' Vocation." He maintained that a constant factor in education is in training boys and girls for democracy. Germany, he declared, has produced a spirit of autocracy.

Dr. Hinitz spoke of the value of good teaching material in the class room.

Dr. Dean's subject was "The Man and the Job" and he discussed this understandingly. He said that it was man's duty to be "always on the job," and compared the educational side of life with the practical. He found more of value in the practical side to prepare a man for his life's job.

Devotional exercises were conducted this morning by Rev. S. J. Cummings, pastor of the Baptist church of Donora.

The first speaker of this morning was Dr. Dean, who discussed the theme, "The Progressive Element in Education," again taking up the practical end as the valuable end in preparing for life work.

Miss Lucy A. Yendes of New York city, known as the author of the Preston papers, was the second speaker of this morning's session, speaking on the theme "Earning and Learning."

A popular instructor proved to be Dr. H. T. Colestock, professor of history in Bucknell University, who this morning in his first address of the present session took up "The Contagion of Life."

This afternoon Miss Yendes took up at 1:15 o'clock "The Training of the Reading and Speaking Voice."

Dr. Dean's theme this afternoon is "Earning and Learning," and Dr. Colestock's "The Call of the Task."

The sessions will continue until Friday noon. There will be only one evening session, Thursday evening, when Dr. Edward Howard Griggs of New York city will give his lecture "Education for the Art of

YOUNGHORNENY MINERS ARRANGE FOR COMING OF PRESIDENT WHITE

Great preparations are being made by the miners of the Youghiogheny valley for the coming of John P. White, international president of the United Mine Workers of America on Labor Day, September 6. Mr. White will address a mass meeting of the miners at West Newton and a meeting at Smithton in the afternoon. A committee consisting of Duncan Douglas, James Malone, Fred Snyder and A. D. Swizkey is preparing for President White's reception.

A definite program is being outlined at both West Newton and Smithton. People are being invited from the Monongahela valley, and bus service will be maintained between Fayette City and Smithton. People from Fayette City, Belle Vernon and Charleroi are becoming interested, in spite of a celebration to be held here.

On Labor Day evening Mr. White will be the honor guest at a big reception to be held in Pittsburgh. He is just returning from a notable tour of the anthracite region.

The Coyle theatre management suggests all who can see the afternoon performances tomorrow to do so. Kiferle's orchestra both afternoon and evening.

ANCIENT WISDOM

In every age, in every nation there has been a class of individuals who are under contemplation. That projected to all innovations solely on the ground that they were new. Everybody numbers one or more of these objects among his acquaintances, says the state health commission.

Preventive medicine is referred to as a new science and so it is. It is but many of the measures used today are hoary with age and have been sanctioned by sanitarians of the more. But the idea is a good one, sim centuries. The Scriptures hold and it is to be hoped works out as well as the designers planned it should.

Donora doesn't have much use for the ordinary kind of carnival after one disastrous experience. Really, that ought to be enough for any town.

Electric Sparks

There is to be no more balking of the Balkan states.

Governor Harris of Georgia has received threatening letters warning him not to go too far in his investigations of the Frank murder. But they won't lynch him, will they.

Supporting President Wilson does not include believing in everything that he does.

What is there for a boss to say when you meet him at a ball game a half hour after being excused because of a nervous headache?

PICKED UP IN PASSING

They had been settled in their spick and span new home just one week and on the Saturday Reginald rushed home eagerly from his office.

Ermentrude met him on the doorstep, her face wreathed in smiles. "Oh, ducksey," she gurgled, "wifey has made you some nice and special for your dinner today! Guess?"

Reginald, who liked good things to eat, reeled off a list of about 50 of his favorite dishes. Then he paused in dismay. His precious Ernie was weeping.

"W-w-wat's the matter?" he gasped.

"O-o-oh!" she sobbed as she threw herself on his neck. "My h-h-heart is broken. I-i thought you'd g-guess straight off that Id m-m-made some b-b-butterscotch!"

Numberless are the stories told of George Washington. Upon one occasion, while the American army was in camp, Washington heard that the colored sentries were not altogether reliable. He determined to test the matter for himself. One night, therefore, when the password was "Cambridge" the general went out and walked up to a colored sentry.

"Who goes there?" cried the sentinel.

"A friend," was the reply. "Advance, friend, and give the countersign."

"Roxburg," said Washington. "No, sah," replied the soldier.

"Medford," said Washington. "No, sah," was the response.

The sentry lost patience. "I tell you, Massa Washington," he said emphatically, "no men can go by here without he say 'Cambridge.'"

Progressiveness has been the watchword. Charleroi has been the "Magic City" in school affairs as well as in industrial activity.

The Pennsylvania state health department, with Dr. Samuel G. Dixon at the head, was named at the Panama-Pacific world's exposition as the most efficient of the United States. True, for Dr. Nixon's department is efficient and political corruption has not seemed to creep in, or to have had any effect upon the workings of the organization.

Plans for the improvement of the high school grounds through the employment of a landscape gardener are under contemplation. That sounds nice and the opinion prevails that they will stand it, with or without the attention of a landscape expert.

A huge wall is being built on Third street to divide an ascending street from a descending street. The cost and the grading will cost today are hoary with age and have been sanctioned by sanitarians of the more. But the idea is a good one, sim centuries. The Scriptures hold and it is to be hoped works out as well as the designers planned it should.

We're Hammering Away At This Fact

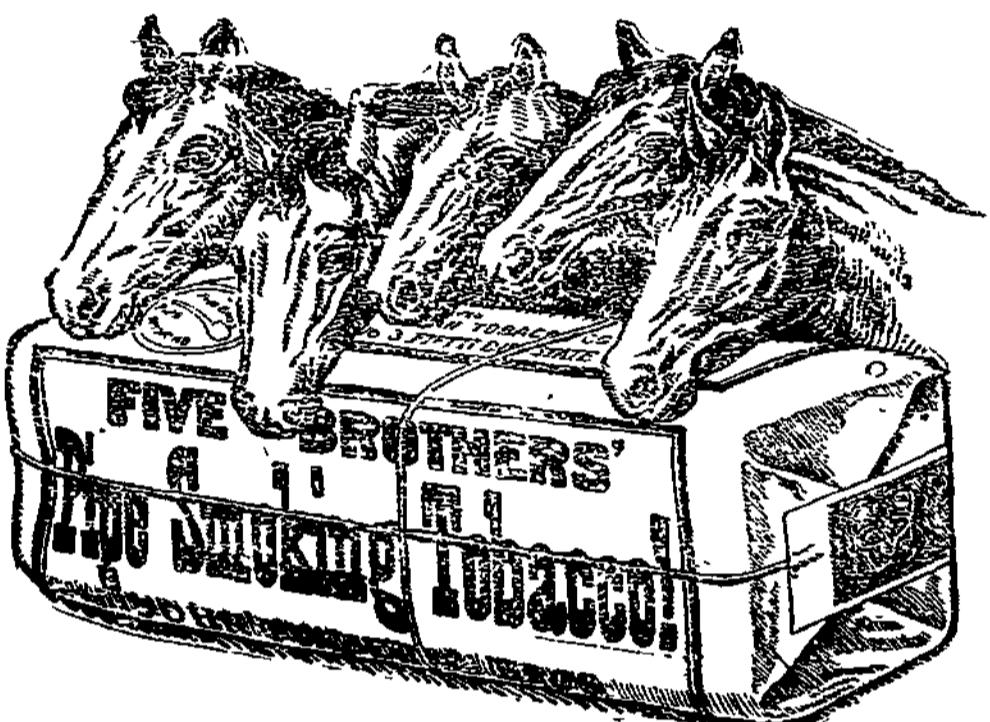

FIVE BROTHERS is the best tobacco in the world for big, strong, manly men. It is made purposely to please this kind of man. It is a juicy, full-bodied tobacco that thoroughly satisfies a powerful man's tobacco hunger.

FIVE BROTHERS is pure Southern Kentucky tobacco, naturally aged for three to five years so as to bring out all its mellow, healthful richness and honest sweetness.

FIVE BROTHERS Pipe Smoking Tobacco

Take the case of the blacksmith. When he wants tobacco satisfaction, he cannot get it out of "flat," insipid mixtures. He has got to have a man's size, real old natural he-tobacco.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section eight of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:

Amend section eight, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law, but any city, the debt of which on the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, exceeded seven per centum of such assessed valuation, and has not since been reduced to less than such per centum, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation.

The city of Philadelphia, upon the conditions hereinafter set forth, may increase its indebtedness to the extent of three per centum upon such assessed valuation for the specific purpose of providing for all or any of the following purposes, to wit: For the construction and improvement of subways, tunnels, railways, elevated railways, and other transit facilities; for the construction and improvement of what are called docks and for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves and docks, owned or to be owned by said city.

Such increase, however, shall only be made with the assent of the electors thereof at a public election, to be held in such manner as shall be provided by law. In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of said city of Philadelphia, at any time, there shall be excluded from the calculation a credit, where the work resulting from any previous expenditure, for any one or more of the specific purposes hereinabove enumerated shall be yielding to said city an annual current net revenue; the amount of which credit shall be ascertained by capitalizing the annual net revenue during the year immediately preceding the time of such ascertainment. Such capitalization shall be accomplished by ascertaining the principal amount which would yield such annual, current net revenue, at the average rate of interest, and sinking-fund charges payable upon the indebtedness incurred by said city for such purposes, up to the time of such ascertainment. The method of determining such amount, so to be excluded or allowed as a credit, may be prescribed by the General Assembly.

In incurring indebtedness, for any one, or more of said purposes of construction, improvement, or reclamation, the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty years from the date thereof, with provision for a sinking-fund sufficient to retire said obligation at maturity, the payments to such sinking-fund to be in equal or graded annual instalments. Such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for and may include the amount of the interest and sinking-fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred; and said city shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking-fund charges, as required by section ten of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, or the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof.

Amend section eight, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law, but any city, the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation, except that any debt or debts hereinafter incurred by the city and county of Philadelphia for the construction and development of subways for transit purposes, or for the construction of wharves and docks, or the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of a system of wharves and docks, as public improvements, owned or to be owned by said city and county of Philadelphia, and which shall yield to the city and county of Philadelphia current net revenues in excess of the interest on said debt or debts, and the annual installments necessary for the cancellation of said debt or debts. May be excluded in ascertaining the power of the city and county of Philadelphia to become otherwise indebted: Provided, That a sinking fund of their cancellation shall be established and maintained," so that it shall read as follows:

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district in cur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law, but any city, the debt of which on the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, exceeded seven per centum of such assessed valuation, and has not since been reduced to less than such per centum, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation.

The city of Philadelphia, upon the conditions hereinafter set forth, may increase its indebtedness to the extent of three per centum upon such assessed valuation for the specific purpose of providing for all or any of the following purposes, to wit: For the construction and improvement of subways, tunnels, railways, elevated railways, and other transit facilities; for the construction and improvement of what are called docks and for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves and docks, owned or to be owned by said city.

Such increase, however, shall only be made with the assent of the electors thereof at a public election, to be held in such manner as shall be provided by law. In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of said city of Philadelphia, at any time, there shall be excluded from the calculation a credit, where the work resulting from any previous expenditure, for any one or more of the specific purposes hereinabove enumerated shall be yielding to said city an annual current net revenue; the amount of which credit shall be ascertained by capitalizing the annual net revenue during the year immediately preceding the time of such ascertainment. Such capitalization shall be accomplished by ascertaining the principal amount which would yield such annual, current net revenue, at the average rate of interest, and sinking-fund charges payable upon the indebtedness incurred by said city for such purposes, up to the time of such ascertainment. The method of determining such amount, so to be excluded or allowed as a credit, may be prescribed by the General Assembly.

In incurring indebtedness, for any one, or more of said purposes of construction, improvement, or reclamation, the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty years from the date thereof, with provision for a sinking-fund sufficient to retire said obligation at maturity, the payments to such sinking-fund to be in equal or graded annual instalments. Such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for and may include the amount of the interest and sinking-fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred; and said city shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking-fund charges, as required by section ten of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, or the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof.

Amend section eight, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district in accordance with provisions of the eighteenth (XVIII) article thereof. Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted into law, that the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth (XVIII) article of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

AMENDMENT

Laws may be passed providing for a system of registering, transferring, insuring of and guaranteeing land titles by the State, or by the counties thereof, and for settling and determining adverse or other claims to and interest in lands, the titles to which are so registered, transferred, insured, and guaranteed; and for the creation and collection of indemnity funds; and for carrying the system and powers herein, provided for into effect by such existing courts as may be designated by the Legislature, and by the establishment of such new courts as may be deemed necessary. In matters arising in and under the operation of such system, judicial powers, with right of appeal, may be conferred by the Legislature upon county recorders and upon other officers by it deems suitable. Such laws may provide for continuing the registering, transferring, insuring, and guaranteeing such titles after the first or original registration has been perfected by the court, and provision may be made for raising the necessary funds for expenses and salaries of officers, which shall be paid out of the treasury of the several counties.

One Thing Frenchwoman Excels In.

There is still one detail of the science of clothes, in which the French surpass us, in which their supremacy is unchallenged. That is the way in which they hat themselves. There has been improvement on our side of the water in this respect also, but there is room for a lot more. There are now fewer women who keep a veil tied around their hats, and on going out don everything at once, running in the pins and pulling down the veil with only a perfunctory glance at the mirror, or none at all.

If you are going to wear a veil at all you might as well put it on properly. There is a certain duty to society in looking as well as one can, and the moral result of making the best of yourself physically, is one whose effect, both upon yourself and upon those with whom you come in contact, is difficult to overestimate.

If late years there have been few veils worn in Paris; by the way, French artists have a way of making themselves heard in clothes matters, and they object strenuously to veils. The women seem to know how to keep in perfect trim without them. It is almost a pity that they have been so generally discarded, as it is a charming study to watch a Parisian adjust one. She does it with the fingers of an artist and the insight of a philosopher. The line across the face comes at the psychological point; if there is a pattern it is arranged to the best advantage. She does not allow a spot or a flower in the design to obliterate the tip of her nose or make the mouth look lopsided or obscure her eyes.

First Aid to the Backward.

Ingenuity of college students in writing badly after they have "passed off" the required freshman or sophomore course in composition is extraordinary. Perhaps it is a reassertion of native inaptitude, perhaps it is sheer carelessness. But the remedy to be adopted at Harvard, after special study of the problem, is a patient one. A standing faculty committee is to be appointed, and "instructors" in all courses will be urged to send to the committee any examination book, thesis or other piece of work which has demonstrated the writer's inability to express his thought." The committee will thereupon prescribe additional work in English for the delinquent students. The very warning should end mere slovenliness, and those whose fault lies deeper should be grateful for the discipline.—New York Evening Post.

Activities of Patent Office.

Owing to the great activities of the patent office during the last year, the regular appropriation of $440,000 for printing specifications in the Official Gazette and supplemental appropriations of $125,000 have been exhausted, and the issues of the Gazette for June 15, 22 and 29 were not issued on those dates, but these issues will be sent out as early as the publication thereof can be brought about, and owing to the resulting congestion there probably will be some delay in the issue of the Gazette for July until conditions in the office of the public printer become normal. There will, however, be no delay in the issue of patents, designs and trademarks.

Novel Porch Light.

A porch lamp of a new type, just placed on the market, is made to be installed inside the building so that it is not only protected from the weather, but serves to illuminate the hall or front room as well as the porch. The lamp is mounted inside the wall adjacent to the porch. Part of the light is diffused through the room, while a part of the horizontal rays are transmitted through a 1/4-inch tube to a globe mounted on the outside of the wall, where with the aid of a reflector, it is uniformly distributed over the porch.—Popular Mechanics.

THE BOY OF OLD AGE

SCARED AWAY BY FAMOUS MEN
OF 80 YEARS YOUNG.

They Testify That Right Living and Sound Thinking Infuse New Life Constantly Into Every Part of the Body.

Old age used to be regarded as an incurable disease; a time to be looked forward to with horror; a period of useless lumbering of the earth.

That boy is scared away by the testimony of some of the living celebrities who have left the Biblical "three-score-and-ten" landmark far behind them.

Says John Burroughs, the great naturalist, at seventy-seven:

"I am in better health and more able to do my work at seventy-seven than I was at forty-seven or at fifty-seven. I have produced more manuscripts during the last three years than during any other three years of my life, and of a kind that has made unusual intellectual demands upon me."

"Old Age is not such a bugaboo after all. He is, in many ways, better to live with than Youth, because he leaves you more at your ease; you are in the calmer waters; the fret and fever of life have greatly abated. Old Age brings the philosophical mind; he brings a deeper, wider outlook upon life; he brings more tolerance and charity and good will. I did not squander my youth in excesses, and hence I am not bankrupt in my old age."

A novelist, who is six years older than Burroughs and who writes six hours a day, gives this recipe for staying young in the eighties:

"I have constantly given my mind plenty of new thoughts, and this mental diet has kept me young. It is routine that ages. Even in my sleep I am often mentally busy. I think I know consciously that when I rest I darken. I have constantly proved that intellectual activity infuses life into every part of the body. As far as possible I avoid anger or worry, for one hour of such debilitating mental exercise destroys all personal magnetism; and what passes between them and the soul I do not care to say."

"I keep my health because I keep my illusions. I will not believe that everyone is false. I will not believe that hope tells a flattering tale, or that friendship is only a name, or that true love has fled from earth and that the fear of God has vanished. And, above all other reasons for my good health, I place the vivifying power of love. Love is life."

Cardinal Gibbons, eighty years old and in the prime of his powers, says:

"I believe firmly that the critical time of life for the making or maruing of a sound constitution is the period of youth. The seeds of weakness are sown in the system then; by irregularity of life, particularly in the hours allotted for sleep and rest; by excess in eating and drinking; by grosser excesses and by lack of proper exercise.

"The rules of health from which I have never swerved from my youth are: Regularity of life, moderation in eating and drinking, exercise proper to my age and profession, avoidance of worry and an ever-abiding trust in God's providence. I have always been avaricious in the matter of sleep. Early to bed is the wisest of all saws for him who has work to do and ambition to do it well."—Los Angeles Express.

Mysterious Zones of Silence.

A meteorologist of Zurich, Dr. A. de Quervan, directs attention to a new theory which he calls a zone of silence. He says that strong noises like explosions or the sound of campana, while heard in a normal way in their immediate neighborhood, are not heard in a distant zone even when most intense.

It is now known as a historical fact that Frederick the Great on August 17, 1740, won the battle of Liegnitz because the Austrian generals Daun and Losen asserted that they had not heard the sound of cannons. It was supposed at that time that the statement of the Austrian commanders was an untruth, but it is now believed that a zone of silence existed. Similar phenomena have been observed recently. In 1908, when the Jungfrau railroad was being built in Switzerland, a fearful detonation took place, caused by the explosion of 25,000 kilograms of dynamite. The noise was heard at a distance of 30 kilometers, but not at 40 kilometers. Strange to say, however, the noise was heard 50 kilometers from the last named zone.

Lime-Loss in Tuberculosis

In the Journal of the American Medical Association (January 17, 1914) was the following: It is stated that in tuberculosis, or in the pre-tuberculous stage, an increased amount of calcium (lime) is lost, both in the urine and feces. In fact, a demineralization has been thought to be a factor in the development of tuberculosis.

"Forced feeding" of tuberculous patients and the enormous amount of eggs and milk once given such patients are not now considered advisable by a large number of physicians. Lime is now combined with other valuable ingredients as to be easily assimilated.

Always we have urged users of Eckman's Alternative to attend strictly to the diet of food.

In addition to a proper diet, some effective remedial agent seems to be needed, and in numerous cases of apparent recovery from tuberculosis and kindred throat and bronchial affections, Eckman's Alternative has been used with great success.

If it does not contain opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, so it is safe to try. Your druggist has it or will order it, or you can get it from us direct.
